

JOB DESCRIPTION

This form summarises the purpose of the job and lists its key tasks.

It may be varied from time to time at the discretion of the College in consultation with the postholder.

Job Title: Teaching Fellow in Farm Animal Pathology	Job ref no: PPS-0206-21
Grade: 6	Department: Pathobiology and Population Sciences
Accountable to: Lecturer in Farm Animal Pathology and Head of Pathology	Responsible for: Not applicable

Job summary:

To teach practical and theoretical skills in farm animal necropsy (post-mortem examination) at undergraduate and postgraduate level and contribute to the RVC's farm animal disease surveillance work in conjunction with APHA.

Competency: Teaching and Learning Support

Key tasks:

- Provide instruction/teaching of farm animal pathology to undergraduate and postgraduate (incl pathology residents) students.
- Participate in student assessment, including providing feedback

Competency: Service Delivery

Key tasks:

- Work as part of a shared rota to provide farm animal pathology post-mortem service to internal and external clients as part of the RVC- FAPD (partner post mortem provider for APHA)
- Be reliable under pressure and able to work independently when required

Competency: Teamwork & Motivation

Key tasks:

- Work successfully in a close-knit team of anatomic pathologists, residents and supportive staff
- Participate in the training of others

Competency: Planning & Organising Resources

Key tasks:

- Plan, prioritise and organise workload

Competency: Communication

Key tasks:

- Communicate orally, written and electronically with colleagues, students and clients in a professional manner showing a high standard of written and spoken English.

Competency: Initiative & Problem Solving

Key tasks:

- Take appropriate action to solve problems

Competency: Analysis & Research

Key tasks:

- Deliver teaching and research in the context of the modern scientific literature and best teaching practice

Flexibility: To deliver services and fulfil academic responsibilities effectively, a degree of flexibility is needed, and the post holder may be required to perform work not specifically referred to above.